FOREWORD

We, the editors, as a part of the Youth of Today, have tried to express in this, our 1945 "Cardinal", our plans for the postwar world - the World of Tomorrow. We hope to fulfill them with the aid of the education we are receiving and the activities and companionships which we have enjoyed as a background. And we pray that these ideals may soon be realized in an era of everlasting peace.

OUR SCHOOL OF TODAY

DEDICATION

To the World of Tomorrow - the world of modern design, the world of freedom and opportunity - we, the Youth of Today, confidently dedicate this, our 1945 "Cardinal". It is with eagerness and trust that we, who are too young to engage in the actual battles of this war, continue to study and plan in order to be prepared for a worthy part in the World of Tomorrow.

HONOR ROLL

IN MEMORIAM

"The only limit to our realization of tomorrow will be our doubts of today. Let us move forward with strong and active faith."—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Words written at Warm Springs, Georgia,
April 11, 1945.

LAKEWOOD'S PART IN THE WAR

Since the beginning of this present World War, Lakewood has shown amazing diligence in the home front war effort. The people of the village have not once let up in the fight to back their sons and brothers who are facing actual combat duty at the battle front. War bond and stamp sales continue to mount. Twice the blood bank has visited the village and twice the people of the village have shown their true patriotic spirit by the large number of donors. Many of those donors have given their blood several other times at the Jamestown Blood Bank. The Red Cross has worked diligently and continuously for the war effort.

But it is not only the adults who have aided in the war effort. The students of the grade and high school have added greatly to the war bond and stamp sales. In a special drive, sales were high enough to buy a pair of field ambulances and a jeep. Last fall, in connection with the F. F. A., several of the students collected milkweed pods which are used for life jackets. The students have cooperated well in the scrap and paper drives.

And so Lakewood continues it's home front battle and will continue to do so until the day of complete victory when her sons can come marching home again.

CUSTODIANS

CUSTODIANS

OUR school building and grounds have been kept in the best condition possible, due to the untiring efforts of our custodians.

They are: Mr. Alfred Lowe, Mr. O. D. Meerdink, Mrs. Mae Marsh, and Mr. Vance Butts. Mr. Robert Norell was with us for a few months at the beginning of the school year. At mid-year, he gave up his work here as bus driver and part time custodian for a job in a war plant.

The maintenance department should be congratulated. In all kinds of weather conditions in the winter months, they were on the job, even at the time of our most severe snow storms.

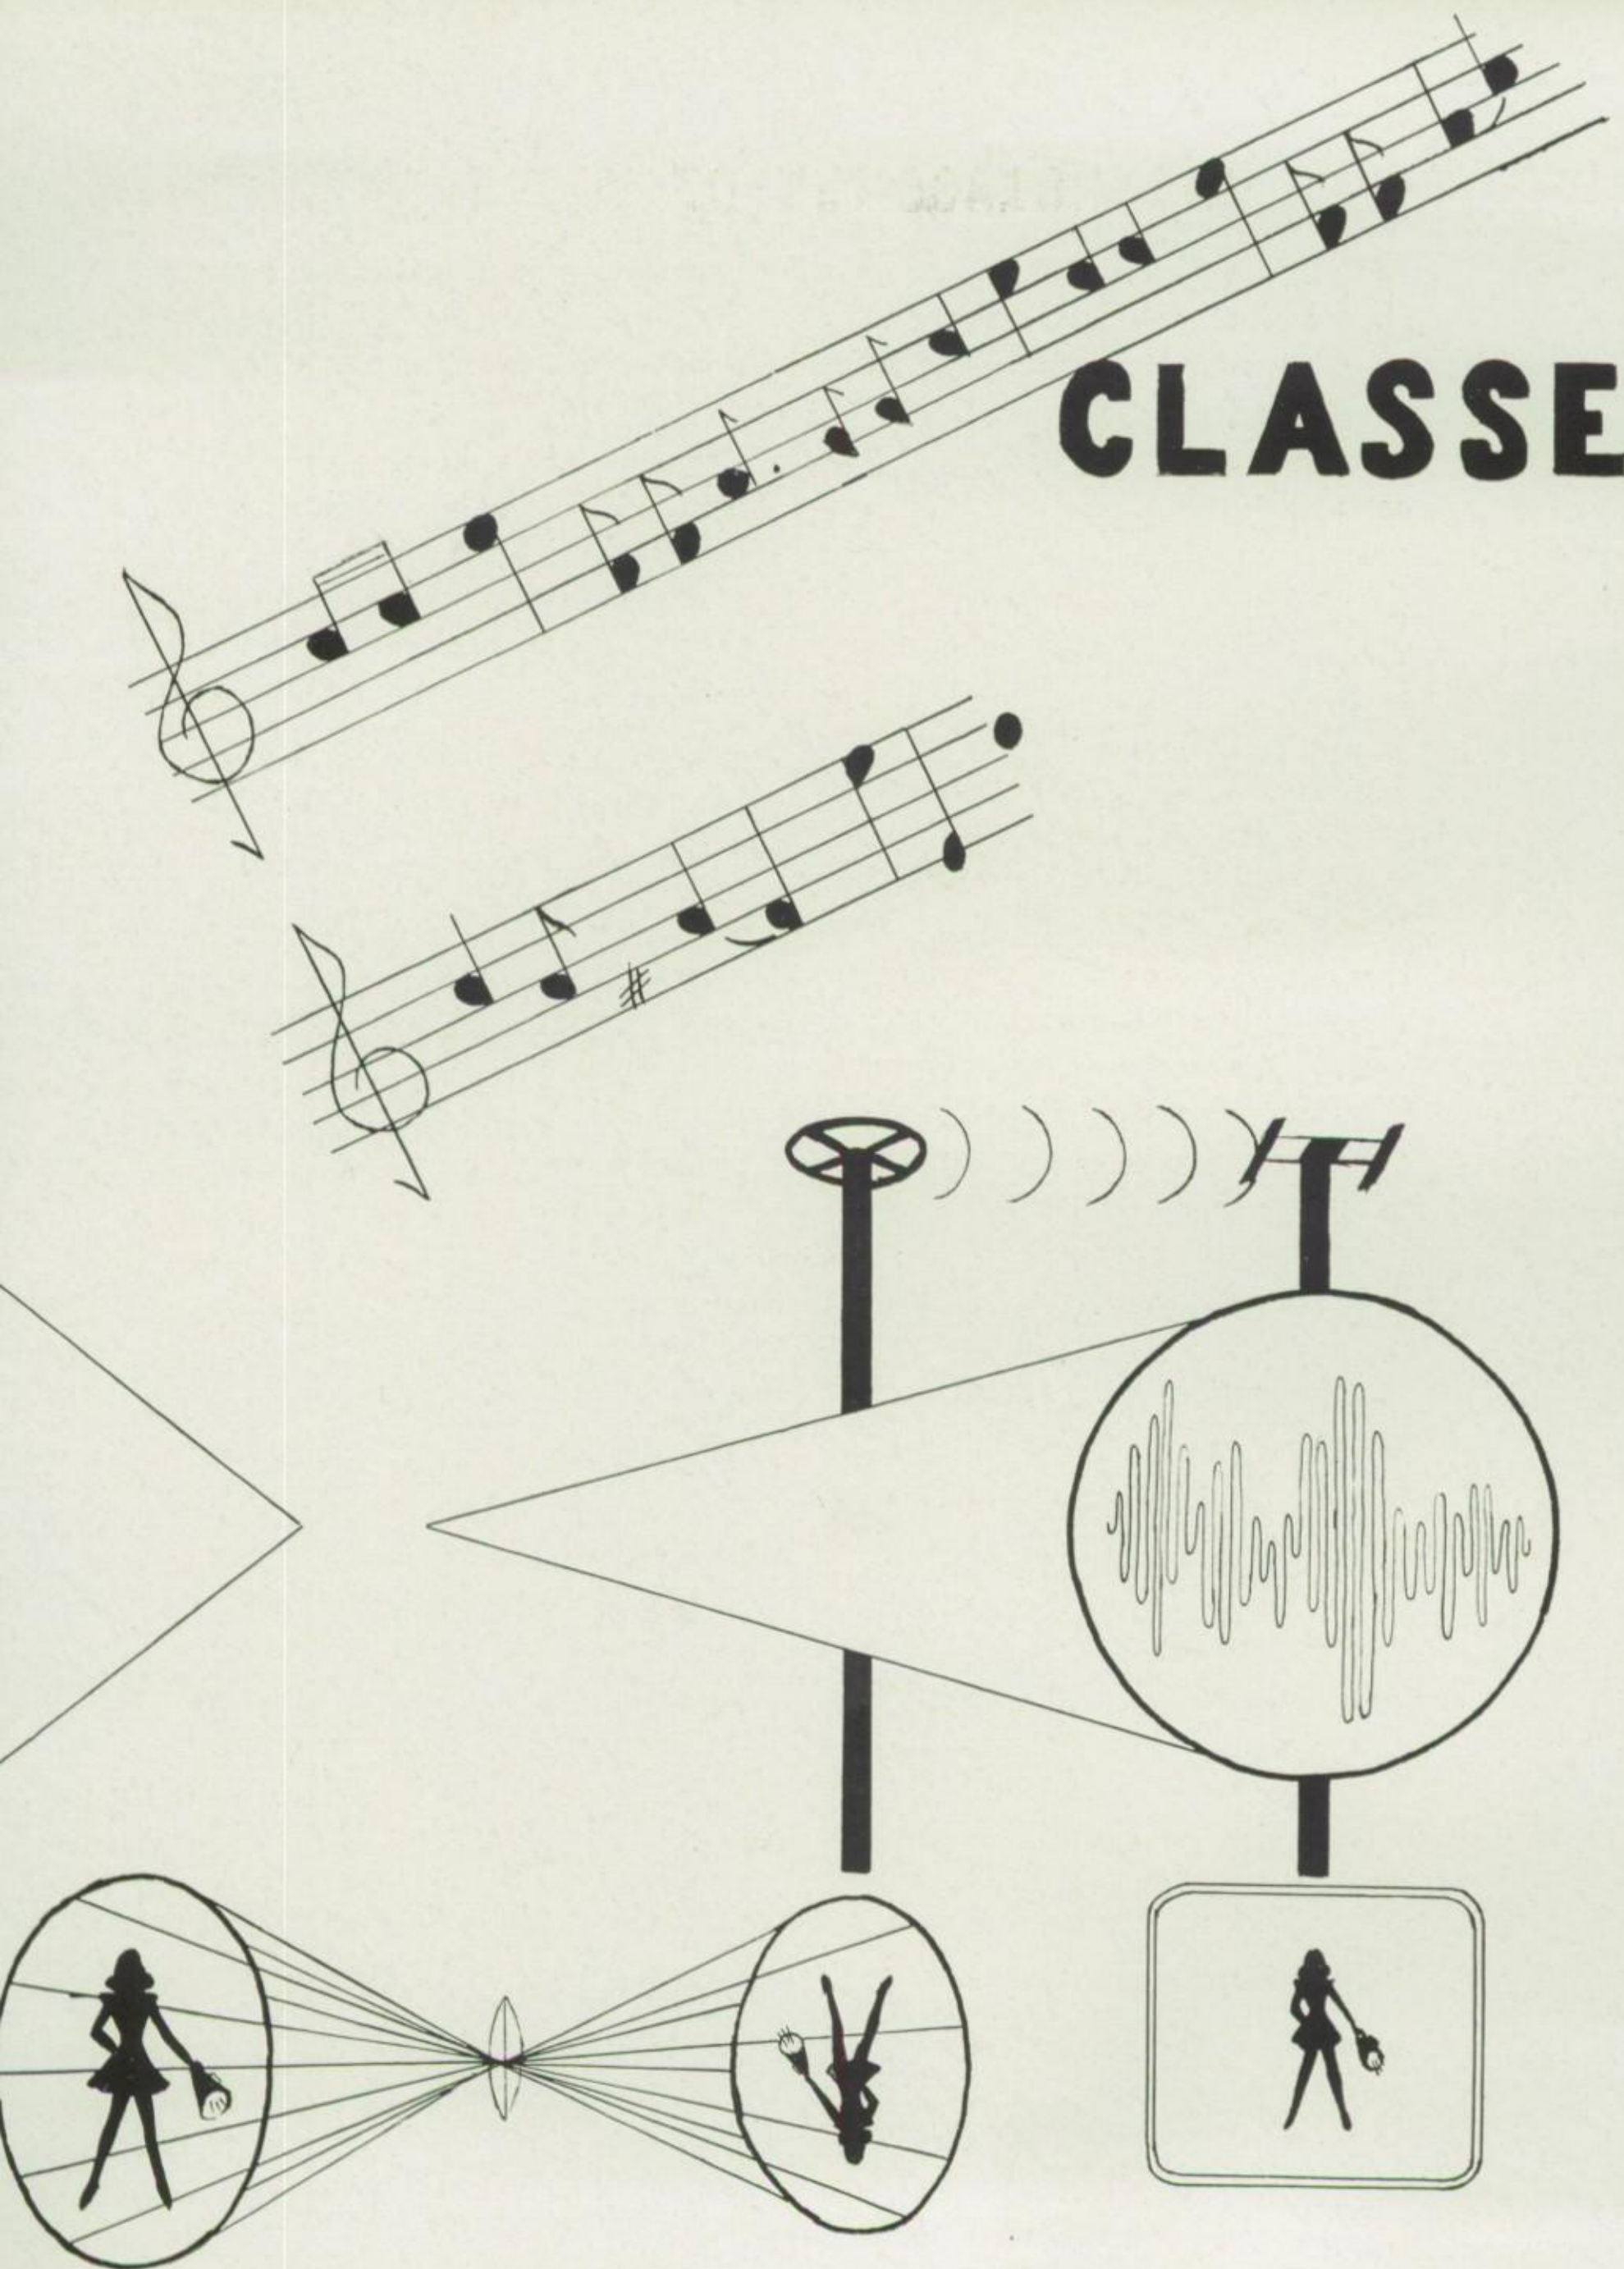

We wish to thank each and every one of the custodians for his work in keeping our school building and equipment in good repair, for each of them has helped to make our year a success.

THE YOUTH OF TODAY WILL SOLVE THE MANY PROBLEMS OF THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

CLASSES

UNDERCLASSMEN OF YESTERDAY

BEGINNING our four year high school march through the corridors and classrooms of the great L.H.S., we, the class of '45, opened our freshman year by electing as officers:

President	Jack Peiffer
Vice President	Betty Anne Pilkey
Secretary	Clarabell Wahl
Treasurer	Ruth Fairbank
Student Council	{Caryl Mullard
	{Roger Shaw
Sports Manager	Virginia Reitz
Reporter	Dave Underwood

We owe much to our faculty advisers, Miss Richards, Mr. Flynn and Mr. Peterson who so ably gave us that basic advice which guided us through our future high school years. As freshmen, we uprooted that idea of being "green" and inexperienced by surprising the school with two sensational assembly programs and a barn dance.

1943 found us as the up and coming sophomore class under the direction of Miss Stall and Mrs. Camp. We elected new officers to guide us toward our ultimate goal.

President	Jack Peiffer
Vice President	Joseph Gerace
Secretary	Clarabell Wahl
Treasurer	Dave Underwood
Student Council	{Ruth Fairbank
	{Ray McCall
Sports Managers	{Caryl Mullard
	{Graham Bourne

Our class was well represented in all sports, intramural as well as interclass and won the interclass basketball championship for the second consecutive year. Our class president moved away and so Joseph Gerace took his place for the remainder of the year.

1944, and we became upperclassmen! Almost on a level with the high and mighty seniors. Again we elected new officers, and they were as follows:

President	Joseph Gerace
Vice President	Betty Anne Pilkey
Secretary	Ruth Fairbank
Treasurer	Caryl Mullard
Student Council	{Lucille Levin
	{Sam Steves
Sports Managers	{Marilyn Dietzel
	{James Larson

The junior play, "Happy Birthday" was very successfully presented on April 21. We discovered through its production, an amazing amount of talent. No doubt some of our own fellow classmen will be the dramatic artists of the future. For the third consecutive year, our girls won the interclass basketball championship.

1945, and we began our last lap. Ten months of classes and school books remain and then we go out to face the future. Our officers for the year were:

President	Joseph Gerace
Vice President	Marilyn Dietzel
Secretary	Beverly McInyre
Treasurer	David Hancq
Student Council	{Helen Truix
	{Robert Vogt
Sports Managers	{Clarabell Wahl
	{Roger Shaw
Reporter	Lucille Levin

THE SENIORS IN THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

WELL, here it is 1955 and the class of '45 is ten years older. Come with us into our television room while we tune in on our fellow classmates.

The manly physique of our class president, Joe Gerace, appears before us. We find him in the back yard of a little cottage teaching his small son the facts of life, a football in one hand and a basketball in the other. Across the way in a neighboring farmyard recline the co-partners, Lawrence Eckstrom and Leo Ellis, lazily overseeing the automatic tractor as it plows up the west field. In the distance we find Bob Towne sending his new mechanical man after the cows. As we begin to leave the farming region we come upon Nancy Peterson and Bev. McIntyre exercising their horses. After ten years, they still believe the horse is here to stay.

Tiring of country life, we turn to the brighter lights of Broadway. In one of the more modernistic nightclubs, "The Sky Room," the now famous Tommy Shaw, having finally outlived Harry James, has his own orchestra and is quickening the heartbeats of the small fry of New York. His smooth singing vocalist and wife, Mary Lou Truax, is still in a state of romantic bliss. In the brass section of the orchestra, Auldin Wellman is plugging away at his trombone. At one of the ringside tables, Dr. Graham Bourne sits holding hands with his newest flame—taking her pulse?? And there over in a secluded corner, Bob Vogt and Ruthie Fairbank, oblivious of their surrounding, are arguing over the blueprint of Professor Vogt's newest invention. A commotion attracts us to a table where Jimmy Larson is energetically telling exploits of his former Navy days. In the lobby the hat-check girl, Mickey McGee, has just taken the hat of that arriving celebrity, Bob Howell, a now famous inventor.

Before the scene fades we catch a glimpse of the waitresses Ida and Elba Hern as they confuse patrons by their similarity.

Abruptly we find ourselves gazing at a dilapidated 1945 convertible. Stick Underwood lazily sprawls in the front seat, subconsciously turning the dials of his pre-war radio. We hear the familiar strains of "Come Let Us Go In Our Autogyro"—the latest hit—sung by our old friend, Clarabell Wahl. At the close of the song he switches to another station where Lillian Post is thrilling the nation with her cowboy songs. As she finishes, Stanley Sherman, the great comedian of '55, begins to speak. But before we can listen our television set changes and we now see an office. The receptionist is Joyce Waid and in the inner office, we see that important executive Sam Rashbrook, being assisted by his two able associates, Ruth Seeley and Lois Lindsey.

As we turn the television dial at random, we recognize the face of David Hancq, now president of a very important Chicago bank.

As we come to the residential district we find those three housewives, Dorothy Martindale Johnston, Phyllis Jordan, and Jean Wilcox, discussing how to run the latest kitchen gadget.

As our search progresses we discover the Julian Naetzker Model Agency in Los Angeles. He is rapidly becoming the John Robert Powers of tomorrow, Caryl Mullard, Betty Anne Pilkey and Marilyn Dietzel, the agency's latest discoveries, are adding their charms to the covers of the leading magazines of the country. The story of the roller skating champion, Mathilda Carlson is currently featured in most of these magazines.

As we come back to Lakewood, we run across Helen Truax and Liver celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary.

Back in Busti is Helen Peterson still unable to decide which of her admiring swains to accept. Berniece Johnson is now a perfect thirty-six due to the success of her Du Barry course.

As we dip our pens for the last time, we are aware that we have forgotten two people—the co-authors, Virginia Reitz and Lucille Levin. For these two we will let the future take care of itself.

We now bring to an end this journey into the World of Tomorrow. We hope that for the Class of '45 it will be a happier one.

JUNIOR CLASS

THE junior class launched the year by electing the following officers:

President		Theodore Kudzy
Vice President		Beatrice Freed
Secretary		Irene Derby
Treasurer		Jean Hudson
Student Council		{ Joyce Larson
		{ La Verne Larson
Sports Managers		{ Barbara Hudson
		{ Norman Bushey

Immediately, to start the year right, the juniors held a "box social" which proved a source of entertainment to all. To raise money the class sold pencils, some with the basketball schedule and some with the cheerleaders' names on them. In the sport realm, the juniors, after much competition, astounded everyone by defeating the seniors to become the basketball champs of the high school!

The class worked very faithfully to present their highly successful play entitled "Special Delivery" on April 13th.

We want to give our deepest thanks to Miss Austin and Mr. Parish for making this year a most outstanding one. We regret that Miss Austin will not be with us next year. However, we do hope that she will enjoy her new work. The Class of '46 will not forget her.

—T.K., C.K.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

WITH our eye on the future, we, the sophomore class began our 1944-45 year by electing the following officers, under the guidance of Mrs. Camp and Miss Gifford.

President	Mary Braley
Vice President	Richard Eckstrom
Secretary	Priscilla Magnuson
Treasurer	Barbara Fairbank
Student Council	{ Gladys Liliestedt
	{ Kermit Andrus
Sports Managers	{ Barbara Soderstrom
	{ Gaylord Bailey
Reporter	John Simpson

We began our year by immediately having a weiner roast at Jean Keefe's house. Every one brought his own food. The big fire, the food, and the loud (though not so musical) singing, insured each one's having a good time.

February 28th, the sophomore girls presented a novel and highly entertaining assembly, in the form of a radio program, complete with commercials and quiz show.

We closed our sophomore year with a big party for class members and guests. There was a supper in the cafeteria and then dancing in the gym. We all enjoyed this party very much and we have great hopes for the future success of our class. Since ours has been the best sophomore class in the history of Lakewood High, we are determined that next year we will be the best junior class, also.

—M.R.B.

FRESHMAN CLASS

MRS. WILCOX, Mrs. Burk and Mr. Flynn guided our footsteps as we started on the road to success.

At the first turn of the way we elected the following officers:

President	Randy Hough
Vice President	Richard Van Every
Secretary	Ruth Truver
Treasurer	Jarold Bergman
Sports Managers	{ Patricia Truax
	{ Clarence Olson
Cardinal Staff	{ Lois Maloy
	{ William Wigley
Student Council	{ Carol Jones
	{ Robert Nelson

On our way we made stops once a month to meet and map out our course to the next station. We made a successful stop at the big basketball game with Clymer where we sold candy and sponsored a dance.

Entertainment? Yes. Mrs. Wilcox's group presented the play "Christmas at Punkin Holler."

Movies? Yes. Mr. Flynn's group showed two of them.

The boys also presented three innings of a world series game. The game was played with an imaginary ball. Countless errors by the teams gave a most hilarious effect.

Basketball? Yes. We made a good showing at interclass games during eighth periods.

We now pause to rest at our first milestone until the time comes to start on the way to the second milestone of our high school years.

EIGHTH GRADE

SUPERVISING the outstanding eighth grade class, Mrs. C. Anderson and Mrs. Dressel led us through a very successful year. Early in the fall we elected the following officers:

President	Barry Bourne
Vice President	Lauritz Nelson
Secretary	Nancy Cooke
Treasurer	Roy Hanks
Sports Manager	{Phyllis Truax
	{Ronny Jenks
Student Council	{Shirley Miles
	{Bruce Baldwin
Cardinal Staff	{JoLeta Hitchiner
	{Clarence Corcoran

Throughout the year we have been working for 100% purchases of war stamps and have had high sales most of the time.

We participated in the Christmas assembly and exchanged gifts. Those of us who have been in the music classes, directed by Mrs. Stanley Andersen have greatly enjoyed the musical programs. Before the week of our program, Mrs. Andersen picks two chairmen for the program. During the week the chairmen pick out different students to participate in the program. They entertain us by singing, and playing the piano.

On April 11, our class had charge of the assembly program. We presented a play entitled, "Sweet Sixteen" and also a spelling bee.

As we come to the end of our eighth grade year we are making big plans for our high school years.

—J.L.H.

SEVENTH GRADE

IN SEPTEMBER, 1944, a class of sixty-seven pupils was organized under the leadership of Mrs. Ulmer and Mrs. Rapp. We elected our class officers as follows:

President	Jane Wigley
Vice President	Sam Peterson
Secretary	Elise Peppas
Treasurer	Ann Kudzy
Student Council	{Sonja Simpson
	{Burt Peterson
Cardinal Staff	{Sabra Bowman
	{Horace Braley

The sale of war bonds and stamps in our class has successfully helped increase the school's weekly sales. Ann Kudzy, who was definitely a "morale builder" for the girls' homeroom, bought two $25 war bonds.

Mrs. Ulmer's homeroom of boys gave one of the funniest assemblies of the year. It was in the form of a skit "I Do," in which William Osmer became married to John Halburg.

While Mrs. Ulmer's assembly was one of the funniest of the year, Mrs. Rapp presented one of the most interesting. She presented a speaker, Mrs. Miller, who was formerly a college teacher in China. She told us many of her experiences as their college was continually moved to keep out of the enemy's grasp.

We have great plans for the future and wish to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Ulmer and Mrs. Rapp for the wonderful things they have done for us in the past year.

CARDINAL STAFF

THE members of the 1945 "Cardinal Staff" met early in the fall to plan their yearbook. Feeling it to be extremely appropriate at this time, the staff chose as its theme "The Youth of Today in the World of Tomorrow."

We have even dedicated our book to the Youth of Today, because we believe that this generation and even the generation that will follow holds the destiny of this struggling world in the palm of its hand. And we believe it is they who will be able to turn this world into one of international peace and brotherly love, with the tolerance and intelligent thinking that they are being taught.

SENIOR PLAY

THE evening of November 17, 1944, found Lakewood High School in great excitement. It was a big night and all were hurrying and scurrying that "Curtain time" might find everything in readiness. With the efficient aid of the stage manager, curtain puller, prompters and other helpers, we turned out a splendid performance.

The cast of the play, "Pride and Prejudice," by Jane Austin, was chosen by Mrs. Camp as follows:

Mr. Bennet, an easy going man, Sam Rashbrook; Mrs. Bennet, his flighty wife, Mary Lou Truax; Jane, their gentle daughter, Marilyn Dietzel; Elizabeth, their independent daughter, Betty Anne Pilkey; Mary, their bookish daughter, Nancy Peterson; Catherine, their fretful daughter, Ruth Fairbank; Lydia, their flirtatious daughter, Clarabell Wahl; Mr. Collins, a pompous young clergyman, Robert Vogt; Mr. Bingley, a friendly young man, Fred Brice; Miss Bingley, his haughty sister, Caryl Mullard; Mr. Darcy, a proud young man, Dave Underwood; Lady Catherine de Bourgh, his overbearing aunt, Beverly McIntyre; Lady Lucas, a neighbor, Jean Wilcox; Charlotte, her plain daughter, Helen Truax; Mr. Wickham, a young officer, Joseph Gerace; Hill, the butler, David Hancq.

We owe much credit to Mrs. Ralph Austin, for it was under her artful and experienced guidance that the senior class of "45" presented "Pride and Prejudice," —C.A.W.

IN OUR WORLD OF TODAY

- Sept. 5—Yes, school is in session, again, and as the doors are flung open to future citizens, we wish them luck.
- 20—We find the faculty members are hungry so a picnic is in order with fun for all.
- 29—Our humble abode is occupied by teachers from southern Chautauqua County (annual conference).
- Oct. 6—King Football reigns again and our Red and Black Owls came out triumphantly over Fredonia. The seniors hold the first football dance.
- 12—"Discovered America — 1492." Yes, you're right! It's Columbus Day and vacation for all.
- 20—A black night at L.H.S., for our Owls are defeated by Falconer.
- Nov. 1-2—Thanks to the OPA we have a short intermission, but our teachers have to slave over issuing the gas coupons.
- 4—The team goes to Fredonia for a game which results in a 7-7 tie! But there's more happening! Six of our most talented fellow students leave for the Hamburg Musical Festival.
- 23-24—Thanks to the fathers of our country that we may take time out to give thanks to God.
- Dec. 5—The basketball season is ushered in by our victorious game with Cherry Creek.
- 8—Chalk up another victory for L.H.S.! This time we defeated the Clymer Pirates.
- 12-13—Hurray for old Man Winter. A few (?) feet of snow close the roads and there is time to catch up on much needed shut-eye!
- 23—The Yuletide is here and good old St. Nick "jingles" in another vacation.
- Jan. 4-5—More snow and our Christmas vacation is prolonged.
- 22-23—My, how time does fly! Regents week is here again. More book worms!
- Feb. 1-2—Winter still holds the upper hand and we benefit by another intermission.
- 9—We meet our oldest rival on the basketball court—Celoron! Again we come out on top.
- Mar. 1—Curtains go up on our annual operetta which this year is called "Ask the Professor."

29-30-31—"In your Easter bonnet."

We recess for a beautiful and glorious Easter time.

April 12—The world is shocked at the news of our President's death and together we mourn his passing while determination fills us to carry on as he would have wished.

13—It's Friday, the 13th, and the Juniors put aside all superstition and present their play, "Special Delivery."

19—It's red letter day at L.H.S. Why are those teachers so careless with the red ink on our report cards?

20—The School Fair—to show what we of the younger generation can do in one year.

21—Our boys go to Dunkirk for the annual volley ball contest.

26—Faculty attends evening conference at Clymer Central School.

27—The school gym is the setting for the colorful and successful Senior-Junior Prom.

May 1—We open the baseball season by tripping to Falconer. Good luck, boys!

25—Elaborate ceremonies mark another joyous May Day! Again the big question is answered. Not only that, but to top things off, the "Cardinal" is published! Those autograph fans!

June 1—It's the "beginning of the end" for the class of '45. It's Class Night again.

18-22—Regents week again—it's the last time for some of us.

24—Baccalaureate Service for the graduates.

26—Commencement day at last — a day which will never be forgotten by the class of '45.

And now the Youth of Today departs into a dark world with hopes of making it bigger and better than ever!

—M.L.T.

JUNIOR SENIOR PROM

The annual Junior-Senior Prom was held in the school gym Friday evening, April 27.

The elaborate decorations of red and white provided a background of gay color. The music of Pat Norman's orchestra provided the best of entertainment for all who attended.

This was one of the most successful Proms ever held at L.H.S. and surely one of the gayest.

STUDENT COUNCIL

THE Student Council led a very prosperous year during the school season of '44-'45. Officers for the year were elected as follows:

President Helen Truax
Vice President LaVerne Larson
Secretary and Treasurer Kermit Andrus

This year under the sponsorship of the Student Council, a recreation hall was set up in Lakewood. This was made possible through the efforts of Mr. Magnuson, Mr. Wilkins, Mr. Vittur, Mrs. Gunton, Mrs. Packard, Mr. Hough and the numerous donors who financed the organization. A committee was chosen from the senior, junior and sophomore classes to organize and obtain funds for the "Teen Club."

Committees were chosen for details such as clean up, conduct and ways and means. Membership cards were issued at one dollar a year. Dances were held and the "Teen Club" was a big success.

The Student Council had charge of the Christmas assembly. A short skit was prepared and various members of the student body took part. Among those participating were: Clarabell Wahl, Joseph Gerace, Robert Vogt, Mary Lou Truax, Bruce Baldwin, Irene Derby, Nancy Chappell, Joan Rugg, Jo Ann Jackson, William Swanson, Virginia Reitz.

We wish to thank our adviser, Miss Gifford, for the fine help and co-operation she has given us.

—K.A.

SAFETY PATROL

THE street and safety patrol members of L.H.S. met with Miss Groters early in October to organize their patrol and choose their officers.

The following students were on the street patrol: George Braley, Daniel McGrath, Allan Eckstrom, Roger Jorgenson, James Skinner, Russel Homer, Charles Vogt, and Roland Rapp. James Skinner acted as president.

Members of the Bus Patrol: Shirley Hitchcock, Emily Pollaro, Carl Lindoll, Edna Nelson, Barbara Kent, Donna Hern, Norma Lindoll, Donna Kent and Marilyn Westcott.

Throughout the year several parties and activities were enjoyed.

Mayor Eckman came one day and spoke to the students about safety patrols and their duties. A luncheon was served that day.

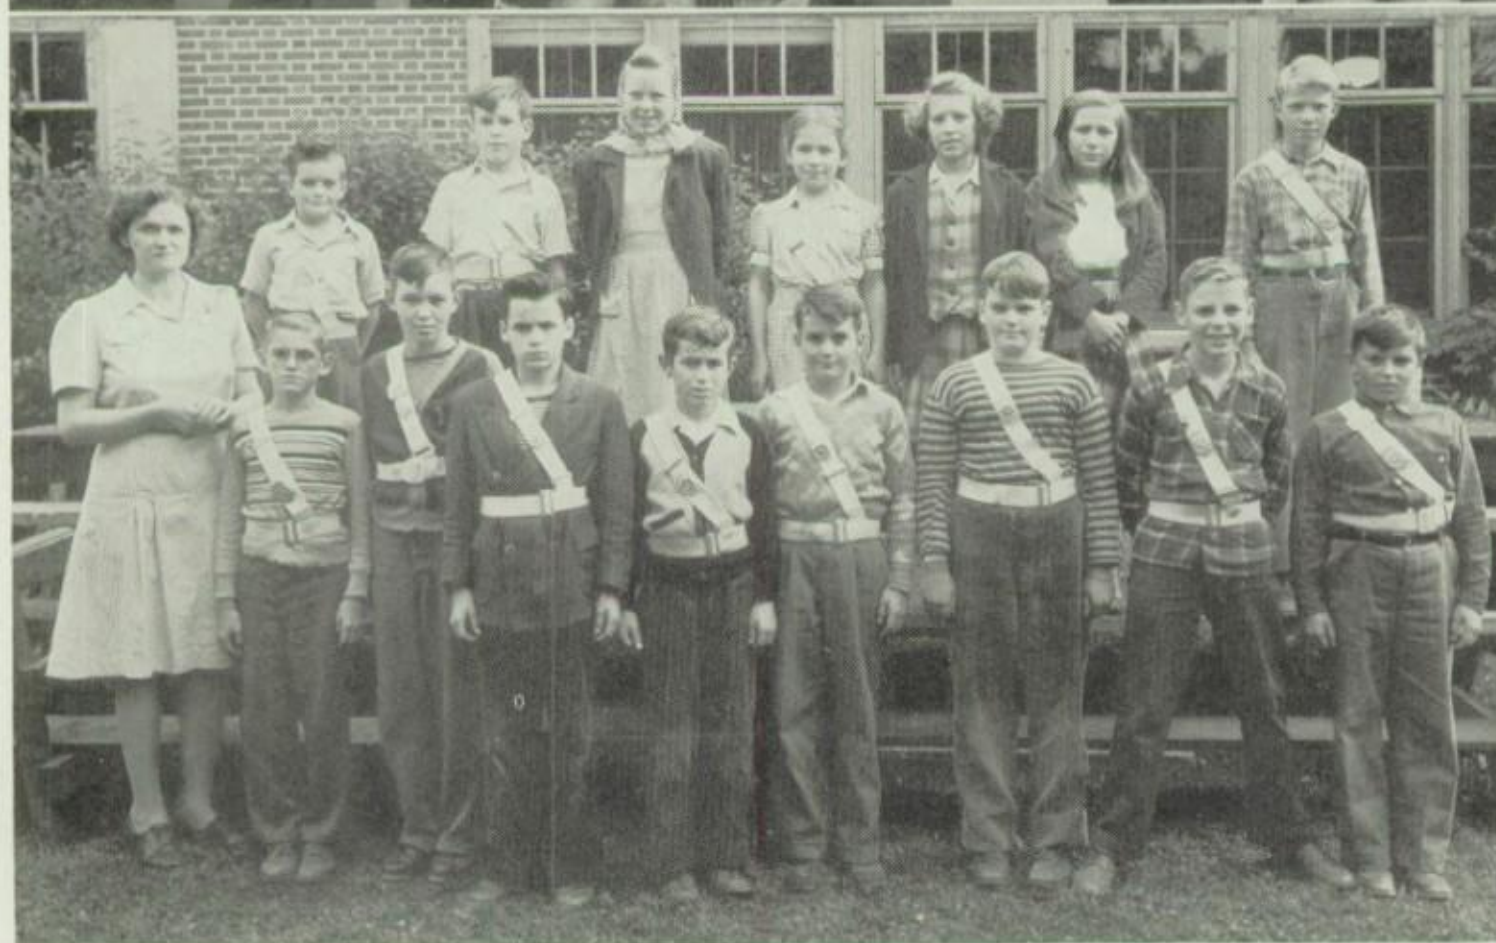

At Christmas time the members of the patrols had a party with exchange of gifts and refreshments. In February a sleigh ride was enjoyed. Following it the members were entertained at the home of Allen Eckstrom.

The members met about every two weeks for their meetings.

MAY DAY

ONE beautiful spring day, the trumpets sounded the coming of the May Queen. The school lawn, the scene of the cherished ceremony, was crowded with eager spectators. The junior girls led the procession in double file, each couple carrying a lovely floral arch. They stopped before the throne forming an archway through which the senior boys and girls marched. The class presidents came next, carrying with them their floral offerings for the Queen. Following them was Claire Sherman, the Master of Ceremonies, who walked up to the platform and stood by the throne where he addressed the spectators. At the close of his speech, Walter Turner, dressed in the robes of King Winter, took his place on the throne.

The Maid of Honor, Marian Kudzy, dressed in white and carrying a spray of flowers, came slowly through the archway and was escorted to the throne by the Master of Ceremonies. There was a short pause and then the lovely May Queen, Carol Anderson, dressed in a colorful spring formal, could be seen slowly approaching the throne. She was met at the base of the platform by the King, and escorted to the throne which he relinquished to her.

The junior class president, Joseph Gerace, came forward to present his gift, the exquisite floral crown which King Winter placed upon the head of his queen.

Next, the sophomore class president, Theodore Kudzy, presented his gift, the footstool of flowers to the queen and finally, Kermit Andrus, the freshman president, presented her with a beautiful bouquet.

Following the presentations, the court was entertained by a May pole dance for their adored rulers in a gay and charming manner.

At the close of the dance, the trumpeters, Michael Emules, Auldin Wellman and Roger Shaw, announced the end of the ceremony and the Queen, escorted by the King, and the Maid of Honor, escorted by the Master of Ceremonies led the procession back through the doors of the school. And so the crowning of the May Queen came to an end for another year.

—J.H.

The May Day Festival is now an old and much loved tradition at L.H.S. having been held for the first time in 1926. The queen and her court are chosen from the senior class by a secret ballot in which the students from seventh to eleventh grade participate. The identity of the queen is never known until the moment she appears during the ceremony. This causes a tension and excitement unsurpassed throughout the year.

THE Lakewood chapter of the Future Farmers of America has enjoyed a successful year under the able guidance of Mr. Wesley Parish.

In October the F.F.A. locally sponsored the collection of milkweed pods. The total collection amounted to over three hundred containers of milkweed.

In November the "Ag" boys sponsored a game dinner in the high school cafeteria. Food, which included squirrel, duck, chicken, opossum and rabbit, was supplied by the boys. Square dancing was enjoyed after the dinner.

The first month of the new year was marked by the local chapter taking first place in the Chautauqua County Dairy Judging Contest. The contest was held at Cassadaga Valley. In April the boys were host to the various chapters of the country in the annual achievement day.

The "Ag" classes visited the Kidder Farm near Jamestown to make a study of contour farming. The organization is now repairing farm machinery.

The members of the chapter wish to sincerely thank Mr. Parish for his unceasing efforts as guide and adviser.

SCHOOL FAIR

ONE of the most successful affairs ever undertaken by Lakewood High School was the school fair held on Friday evening, March 20, under the general chairmanship of Mr. Wesley Parish.

One of the principal and most novel features of the occasion was the presence of three Army men with a jeep which was displayed in the shop and proved a source of much interest.

All the grades had exhibits of the work of students, handwork, drawings, lessons, posters, pictures and other features including their hobbies.

One of the outstanding exhibits of the fair was in charge of the social studies classes, a collection of souvenirs from World Wars 1 and 2 which included a fine display shown by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Le Suer collected by their sons, John and Robert.

In the cafeteria was a display of the work of the industrial arts department, featuring woodwork. The music department had a display there along with one devoted to the work of the Girl Scouts.

In the library Mrs. Peake had several book collections. There was also one table devoted to the Parent-Teacher work.

There were other rooms devoted to the commercial department, senior class, science department, home economics department, art classes and the "Cardinal" staff.

One of the most valuable exhibits was one on electronics, featured by Julian Natzker.

At eight o'clock a program was presented in the auditorium for the entertainment of the visitors.

All in all, the fair was a huge success and L.H.S. hopes to have many more like it.

See if you can figure this out. The junior play cast had a party over at Miss Austin's after play practice one night. Miss Austin even baked a cake for the affair. The next day Miss Austin wasn't in school!!

There's one in every class room! In Biology class one day, Gaylord Bailey said to Mrs. Wilcox, "Why didn't you answer my question?" She replied, "I nodded my head. Didn't you hear me?"

Did you hear about the day that Mrs. Wilcox asked the Chemistry class for the difference between hard and soft water? There was a little confusion until Dave Underwood cleared it up for us. He said, "Hard water—you mean ice?"

TOOLS FOR THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

WE STAND at the threshold of a new world. Books must assume a large share of responsibility in educating the youth for this new air age.

Truth and actual conditions in the world are unjust and harsh because we still have war, disease and corrupt politics.

It is mainly through education that man can better himself. If men are to be free, we must educate for freedom. We must stress the whole truth, not just the part of truth that serves the ends of personal interests.

Peoples who today seem strange and far away and whose life and customs are so little known to us will tomorrow become a part of our everyday life. Books help to promote world brotherhood by giving us a true understanding of these people.

From the ground up to the stratosphere, postwar passengers and cargo will move over new routes, at new speeds, by plane, helicopter, railroad, bus and car. These methods of transportation and communication may seem vague and impossible to us now. Therefore books must serve as the tools which help to fit us for these new advancements. Libraries serve to provide these books.

Our library contains many new books which will help us to fit into the postwar world of tomorrow. It was in one of those books that we found this poem which is so inspirational to the youth of today.

THE THINGS THAT HAVEN'T BEEN DONE BEFORE

The things that haven't been done before,
Those are the things to try;
Columbus dreamed of an unknown shore
At the rim of the far-flung sky,
And his heart was bold and his faith was strong

As he ventured in dangers new,
And he paid no heed to the jeering throng
Or the fears of the doubting crew.

The many will follow the beaten track
With guideposts on the way,
They live and have lived for ages back
With a chart for every day.
Someone has told them it's safe to go
On the road he has traveled o'er,
And all that they ever strive to know
Are the things that were known before.

A few strike out, without map or chart,
Where never a man has been,
From the beaten paths they draw apart
To see what no man has seen.
There are deeds they hunger alone to do;
Though battered and bruised and sore,
They blaze the path for the many, who
Do nothing not done before.

The things that haven't been done before
Are the tasks worth while today;
Are you one of the flock that follows, or
Are you one that shall lead the way?
Are you one of the timid souls that quail
At the jeers of a doubting crew,
Or dare you, whether you win or fail,
Strike out for a goal that's new?

JUNIOR PLAY

“SPECIAL DELIVERY” was the simply super junior play! It was presented in the high school auditorium on Friday, April 13th. This was an especially appropriate night for the performance because the plot of the play revolved about a Friday the 13th.

Have you ever stopped to think of the amazing and humorous situations that could rise over a simple thing like a special delivery letter—especially when this letter was lost before its importance was realized? This delightful three act play started at an exciting pitch and built rapidly into one of the funniest of the new comedies. One of the highlights of the play was the fact that the audience was always “in on the know.” The audience saw the letter pass from character to character while those in the play were at their wits end to find it.

The play was ably directed by Miss Austin and Mr. Parish.

BAND

WE OF the band of '44-'45 were proud to be under the leadership of Mrs. Stanley Andersen.

As in the orchestra the war has taken many of our members, but this has not affected our quality.

Clarabell Wahl, our flutist, was sent to Hamburg, New York for the All-State Sectional Band this winter. The Band was composed of students from this section of the state. They played four numbers.

Our band as a whole has not entered many activities this year, though we have played the marches in assembly.

April 18 was the music assembly. The band's program was as follows:

Shenandoah March—Band

E. F. Goldman

Dublin Holiday Overture—Band

Butchel

Trumpet Solo.....Roger Shaw

Traveler Overture—Band....Butchel

Trombone Solo.....Marilyn Dietzel
King Cotton March—Band...Sousa

The band was also on hand at class night.

We wish to thank Mrs. Andersen for her efforts in making this year a successful one for the band, and wish her the best of luck in her new position in Jamestown next year.

To the band next year and all the years to follow we wish the best of luck.

—A.W.

ORCHESTRA

THE L.H.S. Orchestra of '44-'45 was under the able direction of Mrs. Stanley Andersen.

Since the war our orchestra has decreased in size but not in quality. There was a great lack of stringed instruments, preventing us from playing too difficult selections.

Auldin Wellman, one of the members of the orchestra, was sent to Hamburg last fall to participate in the All State Sectional Orchestra. This was directed by Dr. Harry King of Fredonia State College.

We were unable to have our spring concert this year, therefore the band and the orchestra had an assembly program.

The orchestra's part of the program was as follows:

Forever March.....Schrammel

Violin Solo_____David Hancock

Still as the Night.....Bohm

Flute Solo.....Clarabell Wahl

Overture Excerpts_____Sanders

We wish to thank Mrs. Andersen for her efforts in making this year a successful one for the orchestra. Good luck to the orchestras to follow!

CHORUS

IN LAKEWOOD High School there are several students with outstanding ability in the musical fields. Their talents are brought to light through the outstanding work of our musical organizations which are so excellently directed by Mrs. Stanley Andersen.

Our chorus has done some very notable work this year. In November four of its members, Mary Lou Truax, Betty Anne Pilkey, Roger Shaw, and William Swanson were sent to the Hamburg Musical Festival to participate in the All State Chorus.

In December, just before Christmas, a candellight vesper service was presented by the chorus. The audience was completely intrigued by the scenic pantomime on the stage and the delightful strains of the Christmas carols filling the air from above them.

The chorus also took part in the Commencement program.—R.E.F.

OPERETTA

WHAT more exciting event is there in a youth's life than the long awaited commencement day—the day when all his plans for the future begin! The excitement and importance of the day is wonderfully portrayed in the delightful operetta "Ask the Professor," by Estelle Clark and Adele Lee and directed by Mrs. Stanley Andersen.

The story, in two acts, takes place on the campus of a fashionable girls' school on the commencement days of two successive years. John Ainsworthy, coming to see his sister, June, becomes interested in Maryida, who is going to night school, and her brother, Red, who is going to college, supported by his mother who is a laundress. John and June induce Maryida to accept some money in the form of a scholarship from an aunt of theirs so that she, Maryida, may attend the college the next year. In the end it is disclosed that the money came from John and June themselves.

FOOTBALL

THE 1944-45 football team had itself a fairly good season and ended up winning more games than it lost. This year's team consisted of eight lettermen including Swanson and Gerace who were out to earn their third varsity football letter. Second year men on the squad included Pearson, Rashbrook, Vogt, Keefe, Jones and Johnson.

The team was not too heavy and depended mostly on trick plays by their fast moving backfield to keep them out in front. Bailey and Swanson did most of the scoring with Ger-ace and Johnson doing the power plays and blocking.

Lakewood opened its season by losing to Jamestown High 12 to 7, but went on to defeat Fredonia 6 to 0 in a real thriller. Many scoring opportunities were nullified by penalties and fumbles. Swanson passed to Bailey for the touchdown and Gerace missed the conversion by a few scant inches. Again as in the past, Falconer took the Owls into camp 27 to 7 in a more hotly contested game than the score indicates. Another Swanson to Bailey pass going for our lone touchdown. Gerace made good on his conversion, but the Falconer team was good enough to make Lakewood's seven points look rather insignificant. Lakewood just couldn't get started although our boys chalked up twelve first down to eight for Falconer.

Bolivar was then very effectively taken in stride being snowed under 33 to 14 in a game which saw Bailey chalking up four of the winner's touchdowns and Gerace getting three out of five conversion points.

The Warren Reserves were next on the list of victims being trimmed 13 to 0. The same passing combination accounted for Lakewood's first score and Gerace plunged over from the one yard line for the second score and added the extra point with a perfect place kick which split the uprights.

Lakewood was then held to a 7 to 7 tie game with Fredonia.

All in all, Lakewood's football team and Coach Swearingen deserve praise for this year's fine showing.

BASEBALL

FOR the first time in nearly fifteen years, Lakewood opened its doors to baseball. This proved to be a wise move as the Owls walked off with the League III, Class B and County championships. The League III race was close right down to the finish and at the end of the season, a playoff game with Ripley was necessary to determine who was to meet Cherry Creek for the Class B championship. This game was played on the Mayville field and when the dust had finally settled, Lakewood was on the long end of a 4 to 3 game. This entitled the locals to meet Cherry Creek on the Bemus Point diamond. This game was a typical pitchers' battle, but Lakewood's Phil Newton was at his best and pitched a no-hit, no-run game. Only one man reached first base and that was on an error when Ray, Cherry Creek's lead off man hit a hard grounder to Newton which deflected off his glove; the ball rolling to Jack Carpenter, Lakewood's short-stop, who threw wide to first. Ray was caught trying to steal second, two pitches later. From then on, Newton was invincible. Young, the losers' pitcher, was shaded only by an eyelash, allowing only three hits, one of which was of the scratch variety. Hitchcock, Dahlstrom, and Newton were the only boys who could touch the "stuff" that Young was throwing across the plate. Newton had fourteen strikeouts, Young had eleven. Young allowed only one man to reach first via the base-on-balls route and Newton issued nary a free pass. When the game finally ended, Lakewood's good fortune had again withstood the test and Coach Swearingen's charges had taken a thrilling 1 to 0 ball game which entitled them to go to the Jamestown Municipal Stadium and play Falconer for the County championship.

The Owls not only showed up for the game but whipped the Falconer nine by the impressive score of 7 to 3. Newton pitched a five-hit ball game and played an all around good game. For the first year in high school baseball, the baseball team and Coach Swearingen deserve much praise. Scores for the games were:

Lakewood	14	Panama	1
Lakewood	5	Falconer	9
Lakewood	15	Panama	3
Lakewood	0	Frewsburg	1
Lakewood	10	Clymer	4
Lakewood	0	Ripley	5

INTERCLASS SPORTS

NEVER has L.H.S. witnessed such all-out enthusiasm in intramural and interclass sports as the high school students portrayed this year.

The games were played during eighth periods. The girls' games, played between teams within Red and Black Leagues ended with Marilyn Dietzel's team the winner of the former, and Viola James' team the winner of the latter.

The Boys' Red League was divided up into teams named for various branches of the armed forces and wound up their season with a tie between the Navy and the Coast Guard. Their Black League, which included teams named for animals, ended their season with the Bears the winners.

The interclass sports were played in March and decided for another year the best players of the school. The final games were played between the juniors and seniors. The Junior boys followed suit to defeat the senior boys by a score of 20 to 19.

Both the boys and girls who participated in these sports extend many thanks to Coach Swearingen for making these eighth period contests possible.

The tension aroused by this season surpassed that of any other year for the senior girls, who had been the school's champs for three consecutive years were determined to finish high school with a perfect record. However, with the determination of the juniors to keep them from attaining that record, the seniors were finally defeated in an overtime game by a score of 15 to 13.

BASKETBALL

THE 1944-45 basketball team had its share of glory this year although through the loss of several players to the armed forces, it did not finish up to expectation. After starting out the season with five straight wins, it then was given its first setback at the hands of the Falconer quintet in a tense overtime game which left Lakewood on the short end 31 to 29. Another game was added to the win column before Clymer took the locals' measure 39 to 19. The team then went on to win five straight before losing the last two games to Panama and Clymer.

At the first of the season, Bun Bourne, starting forward, broke his ankle. This at first looked serious but by shifting his lineup around, Coach Swearingen managed to keep the team a winning combination. Later in the year, Hank Pearson, regular guard, enlisted in the Coast Guard. That cut down Lakewood's efficiency quite a bit. When the tie playoff for League II came, Bill Swanson, another of the team's mainstays, was in New York having his Merchant Marine physical.

Lakewood blew its championship chances by dropping a decision to the last place Panama quintet 19 to 13. This forced a playoff between Lakewood and a top notch Clymer five. After holding Clymer to a slight 15 to 12 halftime score, the Clymer five "got hot" and walked off with the game 45 to 18.

High scoring honors for the season went to Rog Shaw with 74 points. Bill Swanson was runner-up with 68 points. The best shooting percentage was held by Bun Bourne with 34.2%. Hank Pearson had the best foul shooting average of 54.1%.

The season's total was eleven victories against four losses for a better than average showing for L.H.S.

The scores for the year were:

Cheer for our red and black
 We, spirits never lack.
 Always, we'll fight for our right
 Fight for Lakewood, to win tonight
 And we will sing praises loud and long
 For Lakewood's team is so strong
 If you're for us
 We'll sing the chorus
 Over once again
 Rah! Rah! Rah!

BOYS' "L" CLUB

SHORTLY after football season the Boys' "L" Club met to reorganize and elect new officers for the year. Those officers are as follows:

President	Joseph Gerace
Vice President	William Swanson
Secretary	Henry Pearson
Treasurer	Robert Vogt

This year, since so many of the school's lettermen have left school to join the armed forces, the Boys' "L" Club was not quite as active as it has been in former years. However, the enthusiasm for athletics and the good sportsmanship portrayed by L.H.S.'s athletes has not diminished even a little.

A candidate for the Boys' "L" Club must first earn a block "L" with time played in twelve quarters of a game for a minor letter, and twenty-four quarters credit for a major letter. The "L"s are presented to the deserving boys by Coach Swearingen in an assembly program shortly after the season for a particular sport closes.

The "L" Club's loss of members to the armed forces this year included Donald Magnuson to the Army, Joseph Gerace to the Navy, William Swanson to the Navy, Henry Pearson to the Coast Guard and Boyd Johnson to the Navy. The "L" Club wishes the best of luck to those boys.

May they all come marching home again on V Day!

GIRLS' "L" CLUB

THE Girls' "L" Club held its first meeting in October. Officers were elected as follows:

President	Helen Truax
Vice President	Ruth Fairbank
Secretary	Betty Anne Pilkey
Treasurer	Marilyn Dietzel

The "L" Club, under our capable adviser Miss Gifford, has been very successful this year. Basketball games and hikes have been enjoyed by the members. The "L" Club's aim is to promote sportsmanship among the students in high school. Our letters are red and black chenille, but at the present time it has been almost impossible to get them due to the war.

This year the girls' "L" Club did something new. Basketball pins were given to the class that won the championship in high school basketball. This year they went to the junior class.

The Boys' and Girls' "L" Clubs were organized in 1933 and 1934 respectively. The standards of good sportsmanship and enthusiasm that the clubs have established have afforded keen competition among the students in completing the requirements necessary for admission to the clubs.

We wish to thank our advisers, Coach Swearingen and Miss Gifford, who sponsored the "L" Clubs this year.
